Who We Are

We are a group of librarians dedicated to getting out of the library building and helping faculty, staff, and students wherever and however is best for them. We want to provide a personal link between McConnell Library and you, emphasizing communication and collaboration.

What We Can Do For You

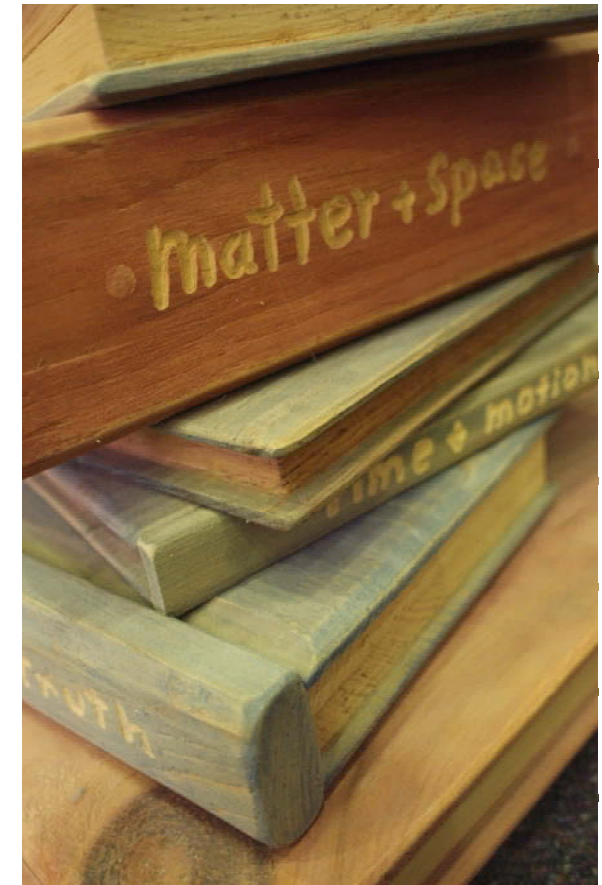

- Be an initial contact for your library questions and needs
- Provide personal library care
- Assist with your research needs
- Introduce you to library services and databases
- Collaborate on research/library assignments for your students
- Share information about new resources and services
- Offer workshops and demos of databases of interest to your department
- And more – just ask!
